

Message from Chairman – SEUARS 2015

It is with great pleasure to send this message to the South Eastern University Arts Research Session (SEUARS) 2015 on “Emerging Trends in Multidisciplinary Research and Practice” organized by the Faculty of Arts and Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka.

This is fourth international conference which is a significant event, because it showcase the recent research findings of the university academics from many universities, undergraduates, postgraduates, researcher and other scholars from various backgrounds.

SEUARS 2015 will feature related presentations from the sub-themes of economy and regional development studies, governance and politics, history and archeology, environmental studies, sociology and anthropology, arts and culture, language and literature, science and technology, business and management studies, tourism and hospitality, and other fields related to social sciences and humanities. Thus, the engagement of many researchers in a multidisciplinary forum will provide an excellent platform to discuss their research findings mutually and critically.

I extend my sincere gratitude to the Vice chancellor, Administrative and Other Employees of the University for Extreme Support and encouragement to organize this research session. I also mark my valued appreciation to the coordinator, secretary and other members of the organizing committee and the entire staff of the Faculty of Arts and Culture for their untiring efforts and commitment to make this event a great success.

I also congratulate and express my best wishes to all presenters and participants of SEUARS 2015 who have contributed immensely to enrich the research culture of the Faculty and the University. I wish SEUARS 2015 all success.

Mr. M. Abdul Jabbar

Chairman/SEUARS 2015

Dean/Faculty of Arts and Culture

South Eastern University of Sri Lanka