MESSAGE FROM THE VICE CHANCELLOR

---

I am extremely glad to send this message to the book of abstracts on 11th SEUIARS 2022 and feel elated that SEUIARS is continuously held at the Faculty of Arts and Culture annually even at the backdrop of economic crisis confronting our country at present. Academic conferences serve as a space for researchers and scholars to share their findings derived from empirical research. 11th South Eastern University International Arts Research Symposium (SEUIARS-2022) organized by the Faculty of Arts and Culture is a great opportunity for researchers and scholars across Sri Lanka, particularly from academic institutions, to do so.

This conference will provide a platform for academic discourses and debates on significant issues amongst various disciplines. We are glad that the theme of the conference of this year is a unique one which entitled "Coping with Current Crisis for the sustainable Development with partners in Excellence". I think that the scholars serving in the university system and other sectors have a tremendous role to contribute to empower society with their research and innovation.

As such, I would like to congratulate all the scholars, researchers and presenters for their participation in the symposium, which is held virtually due to the prevailing economic crisis.

Finally, I wish to express my appreciation to the keynote speaker, distinguished guests, scholars, presenters, the organizing committee, University administrative staff, the Faculty staff and the students for their fullest assistance and enormous co-operation to make this event a success. I also wish to appreciate all others who have fully extended their support to conduct the symposium successfully.

Thank you

Prof. A. Rameez, PhD (NUS)
Vice Chancellor
South Eastern University of Sri Lanka

MESSAGE FROM THE CONFERENCE CHAIR

It is a great pleasure to issue this message on the occasion of the 11th South Eastern University International Arts Research Symposium-2022 (SEUIARS 2022) of the Faculty of Arts and Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, under the theme of “Coping with Current Crisis for the Sustainable Development with Partners in Excellence.” The Annual Research Symposium of the Faculty has been a great success in the last ten years with high quality presentations and participation of academics, industry personnel, postgraduates, undergraduates, and scientists from different research institutions. Just like the previous ten events in this series (SEUIARS in the last decade), I am confident that SEUIARS 2022 will play an important role in encouraging activities in research and development in humanities and social sciences, and provide an excellent opportunity to form collaborations between research institutions both within the country and with international partners. The broad scope of this event includes both theoretical aspects of the humanities and social sciences and applied experience of developing human behavior which provides a unique meeting ground for researchers spanning the whole spectrum of our discipline.

I also hope that the special attention devoted this year to the present crisis situation of our nation including the very exciting area of consequences of the crisis will address the various strategies of Sri Lanka’s present context and development.

The proceedings of this year’s symposium consist of research abstracts presented by 65 scholars from different local and international higher educational institutions. The quality of the abstracts has thoroughly been maintained by a panel of experienced editorial board members. I would like to extend my gratitude to Mr. ML. Fowzul Ameer, the Coordinator of the Symposium, Mr. ILM. Zahir and Mr. K. Nijamir, Joint Secretaries, Mr. MHM. Rinos, Treasurer and others for their tremendous effort for the success of the symposium. I would also like to express my heartfelt appreciation to the Editorial Board of the Proceedings of the 11th SEUIARS 2022.

As the Dean of the Faculty, I also wish to convey my sincere gratitude to the heads of the departments, academic staff, Senior Assistant Registrar, and non-academic staff of the Faculty of Arts and Culture for extending their fullest support and corporation to show up SEUIARS 2022 in the 11th consecutive year. I am eager to express my special gratitude to Prof. A. Rameez, the Vice Chancellor of the University, for his moral support and inspiration to host the event successfully. I also would like to express my sincere gratitude to the relevant authorities of the University for the financial assistance to meet the expenses of the symposium.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Ven. Prof. Pinnawala Sangasumana, the distinguished invited keynote speaker for the 11th SEUIARS 2022 from the Department of Geography, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences of the University of Sri Jayewardenepura, Sri Lanka. I also thank all the members of the Symposium Committee for their efforts in ensuring a rigorous review process to select high-quality papers.

Finally, I sincerely hope that all the participants will benefit from the technical contents of the symposium, and I wish you a very successful symposium and an enjoyable stay in Oluvil.

Prof. M.M. Fazil
Conference Chair, SEUIARS 2022
Dean, Faculty of Arts and Culture, SEUSL

MESSAGE FROM THE COORDINATOR, SEUIARS -2022

I have a great pleasure to publish this message as the coordinator of the 11th International Symposium SEUIARS-2022, of the Faculty of Arts and Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka. The symposium of this year highly role plays on “Coping with current crisis for the sustainable development with partners in excellence”. We have received a number of research papers in the fields of Economic, Sociology, Philosophy, Education and Geography. This symposium will exchange the research knowledge, skills, art of research, and findings of new things among the intellectual, academics, researchers as well as the students.

We believe at the the SEUIARS” is very important conference and event, because it explores the multidisciplinary any innovations for sustainability and growth of human societies. The conference provides opportunity to the academics, practitioners, scientists, and research scholars from various disciplines to discuss avenues for interdisciplinary innovation and identity effective ways to address the regional and global challenges faced by societies. We received eighty research papers out of that only sixty paper were selected to publish in the book of abstracts.

Our symposium will become a very successful event, because of well prepared, organized, skillful and dedication of committee and supporting of Prof. MM. Fazil, Dean, Faculty of Arts and Culture, Prof.A. Rameez, Vice-Chancellor and Administration of South Eastern University of Sri Lanka. I express my heartfelt thanks to the Dean, Chair of this symposium and the Vice-chancellor for their valuable guidance and supports for the SEUIARS-2022.

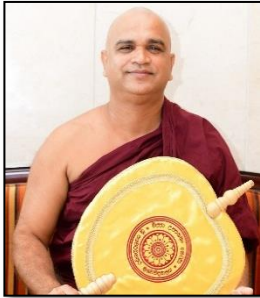

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Prof. MIM. Kaleel, overall adviser, Co-secretary Mr. ILM. Zahir and K. Nijamir, Treasurer; Mr. MHM. Rinos, and our department academics Dr.S. Rafeeka Ameerdeen, Mr. AL. Iyooob, Ms. MHF. Nuskiya and Ms. MN. Nuska. Also, I extend my special thanks to Editorial Board, Track coordinators of this symposium, reviewers and chair persons of tracks for their contribution and efforts. This symposium will help to share the knowledge at national and international level.

A very special thanks to the great scholar for being here with us as key note speaker Rev. Prof. P. Sangasumana. His valuable thoughts will surely open the horizon of new research and practice for researchers and to nation as well as across the globe. Let’s contribute even a little or single step for betterment of society and welfare of humanity to bring prosperity, peace and harmony in this country and world.

ML. Fowzul Ameer
Coordinator / SEUIARS-2022

MESSAGE FROM THE KEYNOTE SPEAKER

I am delighted and honoured to bring this message as the keynote speaker of 11th South Eastern University International Art Research Symposium- 2022 organized by the Department of Geography through Faculty of Arts and Culture. I believe that SEUIARS 2022 will provide a forum to national and international academics, researchers and practitioners to interact and involve in research and innovation align to the conference theme 'Coping with Current Crisis for the Sustainable Development with Partners in Excellence'. In order to build socio-economic and political stability of the country, this type of research conference may benefit the students, teachers and researchers immensely and may help to widen the horizons of their knowledge and work experience in the field of sustainable development. Conferences of this nature provide a platform to young researchers, professionals and policy makers to present their research and development work and get feedback and suggestions to improve their quality of work.

This Conference will provide an opportunity to exchange ideas on updated knowledge on sustainable development pertaining to the main topic of the conference. I hope that this conference will allow the participants a productive discourse not only in aspiring excellence in research, but also in coping with the current crisis of the country. I take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the Vice chancellor, Dean, Head of the Department and members of the conference committee for their excellent works and keen interest in organizing a successful conference. I wish them for their endeavours to spread knowledge.

The last not least, I wish this conference would help academics and practitioners across the world to share their research findings in order to spur academic discourses and debates on various parties in excellence.

I wish SEUIARS – 2022 a grand success!
